

Australian Teacher Aide Professional Development Planner

The Australian Teacher Aide Professional Development Planner is a catalogue of upcoming live web events, and online resources available in the Professional Development Library, and is updated monthly.

Each professional learning resource is listed under the relevant Interest Group, and hyperlinked for quick member access, and includes information to assist with planning such as:

- a description of the key learning outcomes and information about the presenter
- details of the video length, support materials, previews, and availability of closed captions
- a guide to the knowledge, skills and understanding developed in each resource.

Top Tips to Maximise your School's Australian Teacher Aide Membership

Congratulations on investing in professional learning for your education support staff. Australian Teacher Aide is delighted to be partnering with you to build the capability of your teams.

Planning for success is key

The following strategies are used by Australian Teacher Aide member schools to ensure their investment leads to productive professional learning experiences, and improved staff performance:

1. Nominate a teacher/ school leader to mentor education support staff on their professional learning journey.
2. Allocate regular time for education support staff to complete professional learning individually or in teams. For example: Staff Professional Development Days, teacher meetings, school assembly, sports days, etc.
3. Use the Professional Learning Record to identify school, team, and individual goals.
4. Use this Professional Development Planner to identify professional learning activities that support the achievement of performance and development goals.
5. Timetable regular meetings with education support staff to review individual development goals, and reflect on professional learning.
6. Request education support staff bring a copy of their CPD (Continuing Professional Development) diary, evidence of completion, and certificates to performance and development review meetings.

We hope you enjoy your professional learning journey with Australian Teacher Aide.

Warm regards
The ATA Team
